National Hockey League Commissioner Gary Bettman buys $3.1 million Highland Beach condo

National Hockey League Commissioner Gary Bettman has joined the list of celebrities who make their home on the exclusive Highland Beach barrier island.

Bettman and his wife, Michelle, paid $3.125 million for a 5,432-square-foot condominium with six bedrooms and six baths in a small Palm Beach County community north of Boca Raton and south of Delray Beach.

Their condo is at 3740 S. Ocean Blvd. in an upscale beachfront neighborhood housing the rich and famous, including NASCAR's Jeff Gordon, singer Mariah Carey and television mogul Oprah Winfrey.

Bettman bought the unit in Toscana South Tower III from David and Melanie J. Smallwood, who made a 25 percent gain on the $2.5 million they paid in 2005.
